

Tom Doughty: Biography

A performance by Tom Doughty seamlessly blends blues, pop, jazz, folk and world music influences with his own improvisational approach to create a unique experience for the listener. An instantly recognisable lap slide guitar style, passionate vocals and a relaxed, wryly humorous line in stage patter take the audience on a diverse musical journey.

A self taught guitarist from the age of seven, Tom reinvented a way to play guitar after a serious injury in 1974 left him with limited use of his hands -but to hear him, you would have no idea. With four critically acclaimed CDs to his name, Tom performs regularly in the UK and Europe at clubs, concert halls and festivals, and has toured in the USA and Canada.
